

Typical Electronic Access Control Equipment

Access control covers a wide variety of uses, from a simple pushbar / alarm to keypads that require Pin IDs to Proximity cards for more security to biometric readers and video. This is just a small sample of what is available. If you give me a call with your requirements, I can provide you with a solution to meet your needs.

